RE: Abdirashid Said

Dear Sir/Madam,

I have met Abdirashid Said at a community fundraising event for building a school for orphan girls in Somalia five years ago, his deep conviction in educating the girl child and changing the conversation around the same subject matter truly drew me to him, at first, he was quiet, and soft spoken but as the discussion progressed on the charity project, the enthusiasm was written all over his face. Abdul, as we all like to call him and I have since become close friends, and a person I truly look up to when it comes to discussing progress and promoting meaningful ideas in our community.

Abdul is a very kind man, he gives more than he gets but it doesn't wear him out since he is naturally compassionate about our world and humanity, Abdul personally helped me at the lowest moment in my life; a time when my spouse kicked me out of the house and was in dire need, he paid my rent for three months, my legal fees when I was going through the divorce, and supported me financially until I was back on my feet. In retrospect No one even my own family would've done what Abdul did for me. Abdul refused to accept a payback even when I asked him to take it in a form of a gift, only God can reward him, and I pray God blesses him and his family!

Abdul is an honest man, he works very hard to provide for his young family, and inculcates in all of us values of honesty and integrity. "That is what will remain with you when everything is stripped away!" is what he always says.

If you have any question about any of the above, Please call me at 612-270-3136, or write to me at baanje8@gmail.com.

Many Thanks.

Kind Regards,
Maxie Muse.

To Whom it may concern:

Abdirashid Said is a man of his word, great outstanding honest and reliable man who does not let his friends or neighbors down.

Abdirashid Said has helped me through tough times where no one else would help me and honestly saved my life numerous times with his caring and compassionate ways.

I consider him a lifelong friend and more like a brother and family from his generosity and caring heart.

He comes thru all the time when called on to help.

He calls and checks on me all the time and asks how I am doing, how are the kids and if there is anything I need help with so he can help me.

He is an honest man, never hurt a soul, always cares about others before himself. I respect him for the man he is and will always consider him family even though we are from different countries and different cultures. He has proven to me that I can always count on him thru big and small.
